Pikes Peak Habitat ReStores Promote Donation Drive for 2022 Earth Day

Colorado Springs, CO (April 14, 2022) – The theme for Earth Day 2022 is Invest In Our Planet, and Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity (PPHFH) is challenging our community to donate a record-breaking amount of goods to the two local ReStores as a way to keep those items out of the landfill. Donations to the ReStores are recycled and resold with net proceeds helping serve more families in El Paso County in need of affordable housing. The 2022 Earth Day ReStore Donation Drive is sponsored by Keysight Technologies to continue making El Paso County a greener place in 2022.

Brad Doerr, Vice President and General Manager at Keysight Digital and Photonic Center of Excellence, said “Keysight Technologies is excited to partner with Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity on the Earth Day 2022 Celebration. This is a wonderful opportunity to contribute to affordable housing in the Pikes Peak region and to do our part as a good corporate citizen to invest in our planet.”

In the days leading up to Earth Day, and on Earth Day itself (April 22), PPHFH encourages people to donate new and gently used items as they do their spring cleaning. Last year the Pikes Peak Habitat ReStores diverted roughly 1,500 tons of material from landfills.

The ReStores in Colorado Springs are located at:

- 411 S. Wahsatch Ave.
- 6250 Tutt Blvd.

Donations are accepted Monday - Saturday, 10 AM - 5 PM.
