Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity partners with The Home Depot Foundation this summer to help local veteran

COLORADO SPRINGS, CO - JULY 19, 2022 – Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity is working alongside local veteran Brain and his wife, Rosa, to improve his home through Habitat for Humanity’s Repair Corps. Funded by The Home Depot Foundation. Repair Corps has helped build or improve the homes and lives of over 1,400 U.S. military veterans and their family members through critical home repairs.

“The U.S. Census Bureau estimates that 86,290 veterans lived in El Paso County between 2016-2020,” said Kris Lewis, Executive Director/CEO at PPHFH. “With help from The Home Depot Foundation this summer, we are able to make a difference in the life of a local veteran and his family through Repair Corps.”

Since 2010 The Home Depot Foundation has partnered with PPHFH in building and repairing permanent, attainable housing for low-income families in El Paso County.

PPHFH is an official Veterans Build Affiliate with Habitat for Humanity International and is proud to serve local veteran families through the Repairs Corps. PPHF not only provides affordable and decent homes for men and women who have served, but PPHF also join a larger voice advocating for the needs of our veterans and their families. PPHFH is committed to seeking more volunteer engagement from veteran groups as well as recruiting veterans for employment, internships, and other service opportunities.

The repairs for Brian and Rosa's home include removing the existing walkway and pouring a concrete ramp, installing railings, replacing two exterior doors, and repair and raise hose spigots. This improvement will help greatly with mobility/accessibility and remove the chance of falling.

In 2022, 100+ local Habitat organizations are slated to build or repair a target of 200 veteran households across the U.S.
