

The Enterprise Zone Contribution Tax Credit provides tax credits to Colorado taxpayers that contribute to Enterprise Zone (EZ) Projects. Through 2026, Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity (PPHFH) has two EZ Projects.

Donors can claim state income tax credits for donations to either project:
25% for check donations and/or 12.5% for in-kind donations.

These tax credits are capped at $100,000 per taxpayer per tax year, but the remaining credits can carry forward up to five years.

Through 2026, Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity Has TWO Qualifying Enterprise Zone Projects

Both of our EZ Projects are home-building projects for families whose income is 35%-80% of the area median income and who could not otherwise qualify for a traditional mortgage. With an affordable Habitat mortgage, homeowners pay no more than 30% of their income, leading to better financial stability and greater self-sufficiency. Donors can make contributions to either project or indicate for their donation to go "where it's needed most".

The Ridge at Sand Creek:

Donations to this EZ project will fund new workforce housing construction costs on our 30-lot property inside The Ridge at Sand Creek, a 4.4-acre subdivision with 90 total lots in Colorado Springs.

The developed land of these 30 lots was donated by Love in Action, a Colorado nonprofit corporation.

PPHFH will build at least five houses per year on these lots. By building Habitat homes here, we will create a mixed-income neighborhood. Current builds include our 4th Veterans Build, 2nd Interfaith Build for Unity, and 2022 Apostle's Build.

Follow the Habitat homes' building progress inside The Ridge at Sand Creek and their future homeowners at pikespeakhabitat.org/current-builds.

Micah's View & Jacob's Run:

Donations to this EZ project will fund new workforce housing construction costs on two infill properties that PPHFH purchased in Fountain - Micah's View and Jacob's Run.

Micah's View was named in memory of Micah Tice, a U.S. Air Force Academy Preparatory School Cadet Candidate, and PPHFH construction site volunteer. Jacob's Run was named in memory of Jacob Busch, who served on PPHFH's Finance Committee.

PPHFH will build six new houses in these developments over the next ten years with particular outreach to partnering with teachers in the Fountain area to help them become homeowners affordably.
