

Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity Response to Club Q Shooting

Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity stands in solidarity with our LGBTQIA+ neighbors as we mourn the tragedy that devastated Colorado Springs on Saturday night. “Everyone deserves a place of safety to grow, build self-reliance, develop relationships and heal,” said Kris Lewis, Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity Executive Director/CEO. “We understand Club Q was such a space for many in our community. We grieve for the lives that were lost, the people who were traumatized, and the survivors who face an array of challenges in the days ahead — and for the sense of security that was shattered.”

Pikes Peak Habitat is proudly a Christian organization that serves people of all faiths and no faith, regardless of sexual orientation and gender identity, race, ethnicity, and marital and family status.

About Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity

Pikes Peak Habitat for Humanity builds strength, stability and self-reliance through shelter in El Paso County. We build permanent, affordable homes in partnership with the community and prospective homebuyers. Pikes Peak Habitat has been an affiliate of Habitat for Humanity International since 1986 and has partnered with more than 200 families in El Paso County. Families purchase their homes with affordable mortgages. In addition to new construction, we also collaborate on repairs for homeowners who are seniors, veterans and/or cost-burdened.
